3 Job advertisements

- 3.1 Bright Heart posts tutoring vacancies on job internet platforms such as Indeed, LinkedIn, and TES. These posts typically run from 2 weeks to around a month, ensuring that Bright Heart benefits from as wide a pool of prospective candidates as possible.
- 3.2 These adverts outline the expectations and requirements for the tutoring role, including needing a minimum of 12 months of relevant UK tutoring and/or teaching experience.
- 3.3 Adverts require candidates to submit a CV and strongly encourage candidates to submit a cover letter.
- 3.4 The adverts make clear Bright Heart's commitment to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people, and that Bright Heart follows stringent screening and pre-employment safeguarding checks, including:
 - 3.4.1 Holding a screening call, online interview, and in-person meeting;
 - 3.4.2 Ensuring that a candidate has a satisfactory current Enhanced DBS, with a check of the children's barred list; and
 - 3.4.3 Requiring candidates to provide at least 2 independent professional references and 1 independent parent reference.
- 3.5 The adverts include pre-screening questions, including whether the candidate has a satisfactory current enhanced DBS in place and the required experience and qualifications.

4 Initial screening

- 4.1 Screening aims to determine if a candidate appears suitable to work with our students and thus be offered an interview.
- 4.2 Bright Heart reviews pre-screening questions, CVs, and cover letters to determine whether a candidate meets the job requirements.

- 4.3 Bright Heart has a broadly gender-balanced workforce of tutors, and gender is not considered when hiring tutors.
- 4.4 Potentially suitable applicants are shortlisted and then initially screened telephonically.
- 4.5 In addition to providing the applicant with information about potential roles and rates of pay, key questions covered in the screening call include:
 - 4.5.1 Their current role;
 - 4.5.2 Their motivation for applying for the particular role;
 - 4.5.3 Their tutoring and teaching experience;
 - 4.5.4 If they possess an Enhanced DBS;
 - 4.5.5 What subjects they wish to tutor;
 - 4.5.6 Their availability for tutoring;
 - 4.5.7 Their SEN and other relevant experience;
 - 4.5.8 Other relevant questions based on their CV or cover letter, such as understanding gaps, educational qualifications and whether they have the right to work in the UK; and
 - 4.5.9 An assessment of their communication skills, enthusiasm, and professionalism.
- 4.6 Screening call notes are recorded and saved to the candidate's folder.

5 Application for a tutoring role

- 5.1 Following the screening call, potentially suitable tutors are e-mailed a selection of current relevant tutoring roles that Bright Heart seeks to fill, which will include details about the student, location, scheduling requirements, experience and qualification requirements, and the pay rate for the assignment.
- 5.2 Applicants are asked to provide a short application for each role they are interested in. This includes a brief motivation for why the applicant believes they are well-suited to help and briefly details their relevant experience and availability.

- 5.3 Bright Heart then shortlists the most suitable applicants and proceeds to the next stage of the recruitment process, being pre-interview checks.

6 Pre-interview checks

- 6.1 Shortlisted candidates are offered an online interview with a Bright Heart director or education consultant, subject to the candidate first completing a formal application through a request for information.

- 6.2 The information request requires the candidate to provide the following before the interview:

6.2.1 Full legal name, including all middle names and any previous names or aliases.

6.2.2 Details (work e-mail and phone number) for two professional referees, normally including the candidate's current or most recent employer and, where they are not currently working with children, a referee from their most recent relevant role working with children.

References must be work e-mails (no Gmail/Hotmail, etc.) and not from co-workers, but rather a line manager or higher (e.g. head teacher / head of department);

6.2.3 Details (e-mail and phone number) for a parent referee (tutoring or teaching);

6.2.4 Scans / pictures of relevant documents, including:

- Passport (i.e. right to work in the UK);

- 6.2.5 If the applicant is a qualified teacher, they must provide the following details:

- Their DfE teaching qualifications record, accessed through GOV.UK;
- Their QTS certificate; and
- Their induction certificate, where applicable.

- 6.2.6 Self-declaration of criminal records or information that would make the candidate unsuitable to work with children and written confirmation if there is nothing to disclose. Should there be anything potentially disclosable, candidates are requested to consult guidance on disclosing criminal records here. Examples of things to disclose include (but are not limited to):

- A criminal history;
- Included on the children's barred list;
- Prohibited from teaching;
- If known to the police and children's local authority social care; or
- Any relevant overseas information.

- 6.2.7 In addition, candidates are requested to send an updated CV (if not already provided) that meets the following minimum requirements:

- 6.3.1 A Google search of the candidate and an investigation of any potentially concerning information;
- 6.3.2 A search of social media, including Facebook, LinkedIn and Instagram; and
- 6.3.3 These checks are proportionate, limited to publicly available information relevant to suitability to work with children, and compliant with GDPR and equality legislation.

6.4 Finally, the formal information request makes clear that candidates must sign a contract for services post-referencing after the interview (including confirmation that the information in the self-declaration is accurate), and Bright Heart's Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy. It also notes that applying to work for Bright Heart as a tutor is an offence if the candidate is barred from engaging in regulated activity relevant to children.

6.5 Bright Heart checks to ensure all requested information has been returned and any concerns are followed up on before agreeing to proceed with an interview.

7 Initial interview

7.1 Successfully screened candidates who complete the formal information request satisfactorily are then interviewed by a Bright

Heart director or education consultant.

- 7.2 The interview process is designed to ensure that a candidate would be suitable for the role based on their qualifications and experience, that they understand their obligations in terms of safeguarding and child protection and take them seriously, and to identify potential concerns.
- 7.3 The online interview (and subsequent in-person meeting) enables Bright Heart to get to know its tutors more personally to make better matches to students.
- 7.4 During the interview, Bright Heart provides the candidate with:
 - 7.4.1 An introduction to Bright Heart and its philosophy on education and tutoring, including guidance on the Bright Heart approach;
 - 7.4.2 An outline of the key requirements of our Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy;

- 7.5 The candidate is asked a variety of questions to cover the objectives in Clauses 7.2 and 7.3, including:
 - 7.5.1 A review of their experience as outlined in their CV and a request for further references if references supplied do not cover key relevant recent roles;
 - 7.5.2 Scenarios for handling a particular type of student, to determine if they demonstrate the experience claimed in their CV;
 - 7.5.3 A discussion of any gaps in their CV;
 - 7.5.4 A review of their relevant qualifications;
 - 7.5.5 An assessment of their motivation for wanting to work with

- children in the particular role;
- 7.5.6 If there are any disciplinary actions outstanding, or cautions, warnings or barrings;
- 7.5.7 If they are mentally and physically fit to perform the duties of a self-employed tutor.
- 7.6 Where a candidate has provided Bright Heart with a scan or photograph of an existing Enhanced DBS certificate, they will be required to show the original paper DBS certificate during the online interview. This is a preliminary safeguarding and authenticity check only and does not replace Bright Heart's subsequent in-person inspection and verification of the original certificate before the tutor is eligible to commence tutoring.
- 7.7 In the interview, the candidate's responses are closely examined when questioned about how they tutor and work with students, especially those with special educational needs.
- 7.8 Interviews are conducted by one of Bright Heart's directors or education consultants online using video communications software (Microsoft Teams), but subject to a final in-person meeting and document check.
- 7.9 Interview notes are recorded and saved to the candidate's folder.

8 Checks and references

- 8.1 Bright Heart carries out stringent pre-hiring checks for tutors shortlisted following the interview stage.

- 8.2.5 A candidate's passport and, if appropriate, a valid work permit. Where a candidate has immigrated or returned to the UK in the last 5 years, they will also need to provide appropriate references and a police check / DBS equivalent from the relevant overseas country.
- 8.3 Bright Heart performs preliminary checks of the documents outlined in Clause 6.2 via scans sent via e-mail. These preliminary checks do not constitute verification of original documents.
- 8.4 A final in-person inspection and verification of the original documents must take place after contracting, but before a tutor is eligible to commence tutoring.
- 8.5 Bright Heart verifies that references originate from a legitimate source, follows up on any discrepancies or unclear information, and enquires specifically about safeguarding concerns and the candidate's suitability to work with children.
- 8.6 In addition, the shortlisted tutor is required to complete a tutor profile on Bright Heart's tuition management system, which includes:
 - 8.6.1 Address, phone number and a recent professional photograph;
 - 8.6.2 Teaching experience and bio;
 - 8.6.3 Teaching skills;
 - 8.6.4 Qualifications, professional certifications and academic institutions; and
 - 8.6.5 CV (up to date to incorporate latest tutoring/teaching experience).
- 8.7 Where a candidate does not have an enhanced DBS check in place, Bright Heart can process this on their behalf using a third-party provider, uCheck (the tutor is responsible for this cost). This is performed following contracting and is a requirement before any tuition can commence.

9 Contracting

- 9.1 Geraldine Arnott is responsible for performing a final check of a candidate's documents, information request responses, references, screening and interview notes, tutor tier and tutor profile to ensure that all safer recruitment checks outlined above have been carried out satisfactorily before contracting.

Bright Heart records in its Tutor Database that these checks have been satisfactorily completed before the tutor is eligible to commence tuition.
- 10.4 Bright Heart flags tutors who have not completed an in-person check or have an outstanding or expired DBS on its Tutor Database. Such tutors are not eligible to provide tutoring to any students.
- 10.5 Tutors must complete safeguarding induction training and submit and pass a test before commencing any tuition or within one month of signing their contract (if they have not commenced tutoring) as a condition of their contract for services. Tutors must also complete annual safeguarding refresher training and pass a related test.

- 10.6 Tutors must undertake induction tutor training (an online course produced exclusively for Bright Heart by nasen) and submit and pass a test within one month of signing their contract as a condition of their contract for services.
